Columbia County at Work

Evans, Georgia (September 25, 2017) – Columbia County Geographic Information Systems (GIS) has been working in conjunction with other county departments on providing up-to-date information on various projects throughout the county. GIS has partnered with the Stormwater department, Construction and Facilities Management, and Engineering Services on updating an application for the citizens of called “Columbia County at Work”. This application briefly outlines General Obligation Bond and SPLOST (Special Local Option Sales Tax) funded projects; Georgia Department of Transportation (GDOT) projects to include Local Maintenance and Improvement Grant (LMIG) and quick response funded projects; Transportation Investment Act (TIA) projects; and Stormwater funded projects throughout the county.

“Columbia County at Work” hosts completed, in progress and future projects by providing general information about each project. The county offers this as a way for the citizens to stay informed and engaged.
